Meeting Sponsor: Commercial Energy

Presentation Topic: Non Hospital facility management (aka MOBs), a headache or an opportunity?

Presenters: Curry Stypula

Over the past several years many hospital and facility engineers have taken on the added responsibility of managing non critical access hospital facilities. Many are asked to do this without adding staff or tools to effectively manage the energy costs within them.

In some healthcare organizations while these smaller facilities consume as little as 25% of the total organization's energy, they can account for as much as 50% of the total portfolio's energy cost. This comes at a time when PG&E is poised to make wholesale changes within it's electricity time of use periods and fee structures.

Learn more about tools and best practices designed manage and move these costs downward.
